

Trip to The Saatchi Gallery

With Creative Barking and Dagenham

A Social Story

I will go to the Saatchi Gallery to see an exhibition called 'The Sun and The Moon'.

To get there I will meet Creative Barking and Dagenham at Barking Tube Station.

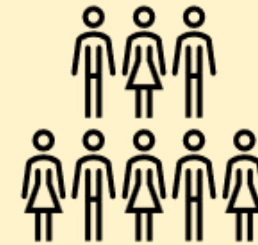

I might travel to the station on foot, by car or on a bus.

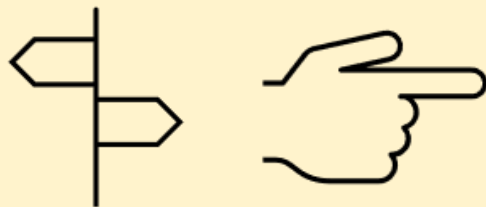

I might go with someone else who can support me and enjoy the art as well.

I will meet some of the friendly staff at CBD who will be happy to see me.

When I get there I might see some people I know, and also people I don't.

I will follow them into the station and they will tell me where to go.

We will get on the District Line Tube.

We will ride the tube for about 40 minutes, and get off at Sloane Square.

We will take a short walk to the Saatchi Gallery.

When we go inside there may be lots of other people who have come to visit.

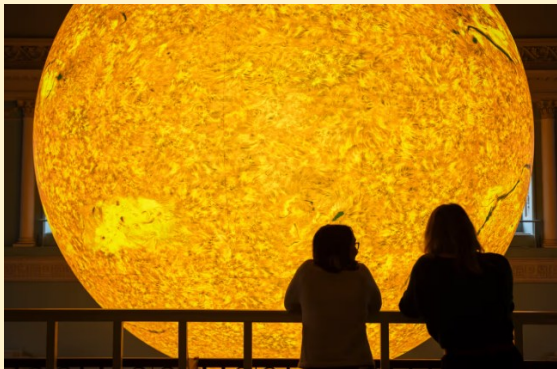

We will be given a tour around the gallery.

There will be lots of pictures and artworks all about the sun and the moon.

We will then join a creative workshop inspired by the exhibition.

I will also be able to see Luke Jerram's piece 'Helios' - a giant sun.

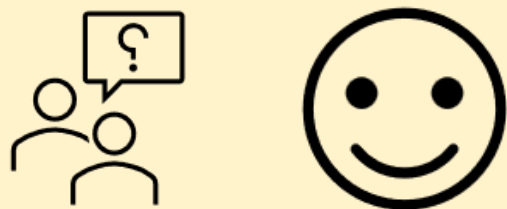

I can spend time enjoying all the different art.

There will be plenty of quiet places to sit and take a rest.

I can enjoy the snacks provided by CBD.

I can ask any questions I want and the friendly staff at CBD will be there to help me.

The trip will last two hours, but if I get tired I can go home early.

When it's time to go home we will go back on the tube to Barking.

Then it will be time to say goodbye to everyone and go home.

I might meet these Creative Barking and Dagenham people:
